Headline:
Cloudy, with the some outbreak of rain.

Today:
A rather cloudy day, for the most part, with spells of light rain or drizzle. However, there will be some bright or sunny spells at times, which will be longest lasting across south Wales during the late afternoon. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy light rain clearing northwards through the evening to leave and dry night with clear spells. Further cloud and light rain then move in from the west overnight. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Sunday:
A mostly dry start with bright or sunny spells. However, cloud and light rain soon move in from the west through the morning and into the afternoon. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Sunny spells with the odd shower in the north Monday. Outbreaks of rain in the north Tuesday morning, before turning dry and sunny. Cloud and rain returning Wednesday.
